Passage to ASEAN (P2A) is a program that was formed with the aim of preparing students, lecturers, and alumni to welcome and participate in the 2015 ASEAN Community through social, artistic, and cultural journeys. The program consists of higher education institutions from all ASEAN countries. One of the Passage to ASEAN programs is the P2A Journey. This program is implemented by sending students to travel to universities in ASEAN countries that have joined the P2A with a minimum number of countries that must be visited is 3 countries. Universities that will travel must arrange the schedule and route of the trip which is carried out by the coordinator of each university.

The P2A Journey website was created with the aim of assisting P2A program coordinators in analyzing more accurate and efficient route determination methods and cost budgeting. For the development of the P2A Journey website system, researchers used a prototype model.
